

Being Intentional: CONNECTING PEOPLE, PRACTICE & POLICY

REGISTER NOW!

Find conference details and lodging information at www.ncaeyc.org/conference

REGISTRATION BONUS:

As a bonus for registering for NCAEYC's Annual Conference, paid registrants will receive a complimentary 176-page printed and spiral-bound copy of NC's official early learning standards, "Foundations of Early Learning and Development" upon check in at Conference. Select from an array of Conference sessions that show you how to improve your teaching practice by utilizing this document.

BEING INTENTIONAL: CONNECTING PEOPLE, PRACTICE AND POLICY

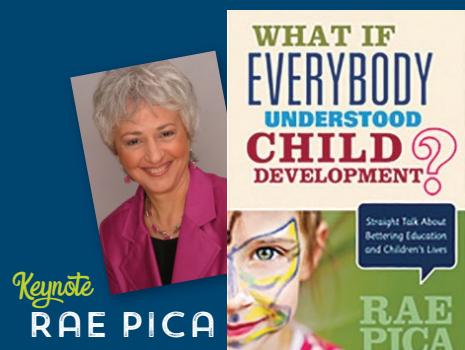

This year's Conference reflects a serious commitment to growing and strengthening connections between people, practice, and policy. Intentionality in early education helps us make informed decisions grounded in relevant, reliable, and research-informed resources that ultimately impact young children and families. Intentionality equips educators to improve outcomes not only for children, but also our profession through policy solutions targeting quality, competencies, and compensation. Check out our pre-conference sessions, Keynote, and Conference sessions to ensure you get the full experience, learning how to be intentional and get connected!

KEYNOTE SPEAKER: RAE PICA

What If Everybody Understood Child Development?: Straight Talk About Bettering Education and Children's Lives

Understand the connection between how kids grow and how they learn.

After 35 years as an education consultant, Rae Pica knows the importance of understanding the natural course of child development. As a Keynote Speaker, she keeps kids front and center as she provides thought-provoking commentary and actionable insights on topics critical to best practice in child development and education. Rae's engaging and energizing presentation includes opinions of experts supported by research and anecdotal evidence as well as real-life stories shared by teachers and families. Be motivated and empowered to be a powerful advocate for children by sharing your knowledge and expertise in simple, yet highly effective ways.

NCAEYC PRE-CONFERENCE SESSIONS

* Receive 5 NC DCDEE Contact Hour Credits

Building on Foundations: Applying North Carolina's Early Learning and Development Standards to Support Children's Growth and Development

Presenters: Teressa Cameron Sumrall, Ph.D
and Catherine Scott-Little, Ph.D

Join us for this interactive session on how teachers across the state use FELD. Get practical ideas for enhancing your work with children and families through curriculum development, lesson planning and assessments for children, including dual language learners and children with disabilities. Learn about the latest resources and professional development opportunities to promote the use of FELD in NC.

Risk and Resilience: Promoting the Development of Emotional and Behavioral Self-Regulation in Children Birth to Five

Presenters: Betty Rintoul, Ph.D
and Lanier DeGrella, Ph.D

This 5-hour training will focus on how the caregiving environment in the earliest years contributes to risk and resilience, brain development with particular attention to the stress response and self-regulation, the effects of different kinds of stress from normal daily hassles to "toxic" stress, and specific ways caregivers can support children's self-regulation and emotional resilience.