Scheduled in the western part of North Carolina by popular demand! Be a part of this innovative professional development experience offered in a lovely autumn setting.

- Gain skills, knowledge and motivation to effectively embed Nurturing the Brain content into your role as trainer, coach, mentor, educator, clinician, faculty, or advocate.
- Explore new resources and strategies for engaging and supporting adult learners through a training experience designed specifically for those who provide professional development or technical assistance.
- Strengthen multidisciplinary connections with other early childhood professionals who share your commitment to child and family well-being.
- Refresh and rejuvenate through fellowship with other dedicated individuals in a relaxed retreat atmosphere.

This 2-day training opportunity is limited to a maximum of 36 participants. The training is approved for 9 DCDEE contact hour credits. Day One kicks off with check-in at 9 AM, training from 10 AM to 4 PM, and ends with dinner and optional evening social. Day Two training begins at 9 AM and wraps up by 3:00 PM.

$395 registration is ALL INCLUSIVE: 2 days of training, training materials, 1 night private lodging at the newly renovated Kanuga Lake Inn, and all meals. Reduced rates are available to those wishing to share a room or commute to the training site.

Three 1.5 hour training modules will be presented and participants will learn how they can replicate each training for a variety of audiences in their home communities. Participants will receive copies of the PowerPoint modules, along with content notes, references, resources, and suggested handouts.

Module 1: Early Brain Development and Self-Regulation

Module 2: Toxic Stress and Early Brain Development

Module 3: Building Resilience through Early Relationships

Bonus PowerPoint: Exploring ACEs: Early Experiences Last a Lifetime
