Engaging and Strengthening Professionals in the Field of Early Childhood Education: A Conversation about Power to the Profession

Power to the Profession is a national initiative that seeks to clearly define the field and profession of Early Childhood Education. While we currently use the term "early childhood professional", there is not an official field with defining characteristics and qualification standards that establish professional roles. Join us in learning more about the Power to the Profession initiative that focuses on advancing the early education profession to substantially improve outcomes for children and families.
